NAME OF SHOW	Tackling Tourism: Visiting Kent after Brexit
DESCRIPTION	Tackling Tourism: Visiting Kent after Brexit is a 24-minute special programme that investigates the future of tourism in Kent. The programme features a combination of pre-records and live chats with industry experts. Presented by KMTV's Harry Peet the show aims to explore both the dangers and benefits tourism attractions across Kent will face during this unique Summer. While some businesses have already received group cancellations as a direct result of Brexit, others are lapping up the benefits of uncertain holiday-goers choosing to stay in the UK instead. The KMTV style programme looks at just how businesses are preparing to tackle these changes in a vital industry.
